11. Grievance redressal mechanism for faculty, staff and students

The college has a well-defined and transparent grievance redressal system to address concerns raised by faculty, staff, and students. The management follows an open and participative approach to administration, ensuring that all grievances are given due attention and resolved promptly.

Suggestion and complaint boxes are strategically placed across the campus and in hostels to facilitate the submission of feedback and concerns. These inputs are regularly reviewed, and appropriate remedial actions are undertaken. Responses and resolutions are communicated to stakeholders through notices displayed on campus notice boards.

Faculty and staff grievances, including issues related to salary, promotions, and service conditions, are addressed by the Director of the Institute in consultation with the Modern Education Society (MES).

For student-related concerns, the Student Council Committee conducts regular meetings where grievances are discussed and necessary corrective measures are taken. Additionally, course coordinators are entrusted with overseeing student welfare and act as a liaison between students and the Director, recommending appropriate actions when needed.
